The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Meulenbrugge (5530238). Meulenbrugge teaches x-ray examination apparatus comprising :

an x-ray image sensor matrix 12 for deriving an initial image signal from an x-ray image and calibration image signals from a calibration image signal which represent delayed electric charges emitted during readout after a fixed period of time since said initial image exposure a correction unit 22 for deriving a corrected image signal from the initial image signal, wherein the correction unit includes memory 1-7/37 for storing correction values derived from the calibration image signal and an arithmetic unit 36 for computing signal levels of the corrected image signal from signal levels of the initial image signal and at least some of said correction values in order to take said delayed electric charges into consideration during correction.

Meulenbrugge's initial image and calibration image are the same image. Means are provided to select correction values from the frame memories and the lookup tables, and values from the lookup tables are used to obtain more accurate values from correction values stored in the frame memories.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2882

Claims 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meulenbrugge as above. Meulenbrugge does not mention interpolating between stored correcting values, but it would have been obvious to do so in order to achieve greater reduction of trapped charge artifacts.
